MWMLA 2019 Meeting in Champaign-Urbana

We are getting very excited to host the 2019 annual meeting in Champaign-Urbana, where the School of Music at University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign were an early force in experimental and computer music, and is home of the Hymn Tune Index and Renaissance Music Archive.

The meeting website now has details about the hotel, travel options, and local restaurants, coffee, and other sights and events. You can see from this page that our meeting coincides with the local Folk and Roots Festival, a performance by the

From the Chair

Katie Buehner, University of Iowa

Greetings!

The annual Midwest meeting is a few weeks away in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois.

The Local Arrangements Committee has been working hard to prepare a great experience for all who can make the trip to Illinois. Be sure to check out their article in this issue, which provides a useful overview of the meeting and links to the meeting website.

The Program Committee has assembled a wonderful program that includes sessions on collaborative partnerships, archival collections, instructional assessment, big data and jazz recordings, institutional coordination, ethnographic collections, collection mergers and processing, and introducing Graduate Student Spotlight lightning talks. Thanks to Mike Duffy, Kirstin Johnson, and Sylvia Yang for serving on the Program Committee and putting together an exciting slate of presentations and posters .

Many thanks to Kirstin Johnson and Kate Lambaria for the hard work on local arrangements for this year's meeting in Champaign-Urbana. For more details on the program, be sure to check out the complete program listing in this issue.

I hope to see many of you soon in Champaign-Urbana!

Katie

Chicago Symphony, and a Theatre Department production of Titus Andronicus, among other things.

The hotel has recently opened a new bar called Punch! Your fearless Local Arrangements Co-chairs Kate Lambaria and I checked it out recently and they offer small bites, wine, beer, and solid cocktail creations in an atmosphere conducive to small-group conversations.

The program committee, chaired by Mike Duffy and including Sylvia Yang and Kirstin Johnson, are putting the finishing touches on what should be an excellent program. The program will take place at the hotel and on the U of I campus. Session topics range from collaborating with campus partners, music library mergers and moves, collaborating on collections, histories of specific collections, and more. There will be poster sessions, tours of MPAL and demonstrations of our reproducing player piano, and optional tours of the Sousa Center and Archive for American Music (.5 mile walk from the Music Building) and the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts (just across the street). Please sign up for a tour when you register, as spaces are limited. Transportation will be provided back to the hotel after regular sessions on Friday and after the tours.

Public Services Beat

The Public Services Beat (8/2019)

Welcome to the third iteration of the Public Services Beat! For this issue, I would like to draw your attention to the MWMLA Research Guides Directory (located on the Publications tab on the Midwest Chapter of the Music Library Association website). The MWMLA Research Guides Directory is a directory of music (as well as dance and theatre to some extent) LibGuides and Subject Guides at libraries affiliated with the Midwest Chapter of the Music Library Association, and is in need of a major overhaul! We aim to use our meeting time during the MWMLA annual meeting as a LibGuide Edit-a-thon and will collectively update the guide. If you're interested in helping with this endeavor, let me know!

Are you doing something innovative in relation to public services in your library? Maybe you want to try something new or collaborate with other librarians? Let's foster some awareness and discussion around issues of public services and consider contributing to future iterations of the Public Services Beat! The Public Services Committee would love to feature you and your projects in future publications of Notebook.
